Dedication highlights Vadalabene's career

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Calling Monday a "splendid moment in the history of the university — and in my life," State Sen. Sam Vadalabene helped dedicate the new $12 million Sam M. Vadalabene Center of Health, Recreation and Physical Education during Founders Day at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

On hand to help Vadalabene dedicate the new multi-purpose building were Illinois Governor James Thompson, SIU Chancellor Kenneth Shaw, SIUE President Earl Lazerson and a host of dignitaries.

A rainstorm forced moving the dedication, and about 300 people, to the crowded lobby of the new building, but Vadalabene said the storm could not dampen his enthusiasm on this occasion.

GOVERNOR THOMPSON congratulated Vadalabene for his persistence which resulted in funding for the building and said, "I'm glad his (Vadalabene's) name is going on a building with such importance to Illinoisans for generations to come."

Vadalabene also commended the governor, saying, "All of us who have dreamed so long for this day should recognize the vital role played by our governor in making our dream a reality. He has been a most generous friend. Since he had to release every penny that went into the construction of this facility, Governor Thompson knows that it did not come cheap. It was a necessity, but it was an expensive one. The money for it came during a period when the state was facing severe budgetary strains."

Vadalabene also noted, "one of the strongest arguments we have always used is that Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was the only major state institution without a permanent building for physical education, recreation and intercollegiate athletic competition."

THE LATE John Rendleman, former head of SIUE, dreamed of a gymnasium on the campus until his death, Vadalabene said. The senator recalled the dying Rendleman in a hospital bed in Highland saying, "Sam, I know you can do it. Keep fighting. Keep fighting. Keep fighting."

"My last words to him as I was leaving were, 'John, I won't let you down. John, I DIDN'T let you down,'" he added.

Vadalabene also had kind words for the late George T. Wilkins Sr. of Granite City, one of the SIUE founders and "one of the founders of my personal and public life," the senator said. "He changed my life profoundly for the better by instilling those values of hard work and determination that will always characterize the way I approach my duties in the Senate," he noted.

Vadalabene recalled when he first sponsored a bill in the House in 1969 for a building, "about the same size as the one we finally see before us today. At that time, it was estimated to cost $4 million," he noted. Inflation over the years brought the final cost to $15 million.

DR. SHAW recalled that Gov. Thompson backed the first bill in 1978 appropriating $190,000 for planning the center. Then, he signed a bill appropriating $640,000 more to complete that planning. In Fiscal Year '81, he signed the first $10 million construction bill and in FY '83 signed the appropriation for $874,000 for equipment and site development.

He commended Thompson for "always keeping your promises. I express our gratitude. May you always keep your promises to SIU and may you make many, many more," Shaw added.

Gov. Thompson kidded Vadalabene, saying he has "put down so much concrete in his district that the runoff is flooding surrounding counties."

A BUILDING is more than just bricks, concrete and steel, Thompson said. The purposes for the buildings and the kind of people who carry them out are just as important. "What goes on inside buildings like these is more important than

Raises for Pontoon workers

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees voted Tuesday night to give all police officers and employees of the village a 10 percent raise in salary and to include the amount in the tentative budget that was submitted at the meeting.

Trustee Donald C. Rea said the police and employees have not been granted a salary increase for three years. Board members voted unanimously for his motion that included the increase be retroactive to May 1 and be added to the tentative budget.

THE recommended appropriations for the 1984-85 fiscal year submitted by the finance committee totaled $295,730 and was accepted with the agreement that the increase in salaries be added for the forthcoming year.

This total amount reflected $49,800 budgeted for the general fund administration; $229,970 for the police department budget, and $15,960 in the federal revenue sharing category.

A final vote, changes and acceptance of the budget will be decided at the next meeting on Tuesday, May 22, at 7 p.m., Village President Paul Bennett said.

A WORK stoppage on the Timberlake Subdivision brought a delegation of three representatives of the contractor and builders for clarification of the reason, to the meeting.

Rowena Leonard, secretary-treasurer for Timberlake, Inc. asked that a meeting be arranged for the trustees and her organization to discuss the problems and arrive at a solution so the construction of the log homes can be resumed.

President Bennett informed the Special day for a special mom

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

(Editor's note: The names of the foster mother and the foster children in this story have been changed to protect them from harassment by the parents of the children.)

For Pam Johnson, this Mother's Day will not just mean getting the day off, it will mean the fulfillment of a long wait to be a mother.

"It was nine years ago that Pam found out that she was not able to have children. Since that time, Pam and her husband, a yeoman in the U.S. Navy, have attempted to adopt a child, only to be told they would have to wait five or more years for an infant.

NOW, THROUGH a foster care program, Pam and her husband are going to be able to adopt 2-year-old Michael, a child who has been staying in the Johnsons' home for the past year. The two also are the foster care parents for 15-year-old Clark.

"When Mother's Day comes around and you're not a mother, it leaves you with a hollow feeling inside," said Pam. "I've always had a lot of love for children and not being able to have something I wanted so badly was very painful for me."

Last year, Pam got her first taste of Mother's Day. "It was really neat — my 15-year-old treated me to breakfast at McDonald's," she said, "but it's going to be even better this year, because this year he (Michael) will be mine."

"A LOT OF effort gets put into the kids throughout the year, but on Mother's Day it is all worthwhile because the kids give something back — they reward me."

Pam says she feels the long wait she has had to become a mother has made her appreciate the "little things" more, and perhaps has

Moose Lodge 272 installs new officers

Frank Woods was installed as governor of the Granite City Moose Lodge 272 in formal ceremonies held last week at the lodge hall.

Others taking the oath of office for 1984-85 include, Vernon C. Johnson, junior past governor, Bill Hubert, junior governor, Charles Hester, prelate, David Pulley, treasurer, Virgil Singler, secretary, Bud Flowers, one year trustee, Virgil Reeves, two year trustee, George Guthrie, three year trustee, Robert Thomason, sergeant-at-arms, Ben Voyles, inner guard, and Paul Ledermann, outer guard.

Serving as the installing team were James Tadlock as installing governor and Walter Anders, installing sergeant-at-arms, and escorts for the event were Karen Anders, Millie Votoupal, Betty Schmid, Cindy Roethemeyer, Sue Singler, Sharon Hancock, Nancy Woods and Pam Thomason.

Officers of the Granite City Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, filled the officers chairs and Junior Regent Delliah Kramer assisted the installing officers.

After receiving the gavel Frank Woods introduced his wife, Sylvia who is a past regent of Chapter 247, his son Frank Jr., daughter, Nancy and Carl Robinson, a cousin.

The Junior Past Governor Johnson gave special recognition to each of the officers and lodge members who assisted him during his term of office as his wife Clara presented each one with a gift.

A dinner was served by Bill Hubert, junior governor, to 150 people after the ceremonial and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of the Gary Hudson band.

Music was provided during the installation by Al Rezahek at the piano and Hudson on the guitar.

Paramedic Leisner moves to city police department

Members of the Granite City council accepted the resignation last week of Mike Leisner, a paramedic with the city's ambulance department. Leisner, 31, will move to the city's police department, where he will begin work as a probationary officer on May 16.

Leisner will fill the vacancy left by Mark J. Eavenson, who resigned from the police department on April 24.

Leisner had been ranked next behind Eavenson among recent candidates who took the qualifying test for the department's hiring list.

Leisner attended a Granite City elementary school and the local high school. He was a medical corpsman with Navy from October 1971 to January 1975. He was stationed with a Marine unit at Camp Lejeune, N.C. In 1979, he graduated from Belleville Area College with an associate of science degree in radiological technology. He began working with the city's ambulance department in January of 1980.

Leisner and his wife, Cindy, and two children, Joshua and Heather, reside in Granite City.

INITIATES to the Madison High School branch of the National Honor Society are, from the left, Nena Morrow, Glodys Bailey, Tryce Ankron, Gina Griggs, Mark Mainbridge, Cheri Wore, Anthony Valentine and Tina Cloggett. They were installed by officers, including Diana Kemp, president, and remarks were made by Assistant Principal Arthur Carter. James Loy is the faculty sponsor.

National Intergroup profitable in 1984

National Intergroup Inc. (NI), last week reported a net profit for the first quarter of 1984 and operating profits for all six of its business groups. The firm owns Granite City Steel.

Net income in the first quarter was $7.6 million, compared with a net loss of $3.4 million in the first quarter last year.

Earnings per common share were 18 cents in the first quarter of 1984 after a $3.9 million preferred dividend requirement, compared with a loss of $1.94 per common share after preferred dividends of $1.4 million in the first quarter last year.

Net sales were $774 million, versus $778 million reported in the first quarter of 1983, or $558 million on a comparable basis without the former Weirton Steel Division.

"We are pleased that all operating units were profitable in the first quarter," said Howard M. Love, National Intergroup's chairman and chief executive officer.

"All of our major units were also ahead of plan, with the exception of the steel operations, which were impacted by severe weather early in the quarter at Great Lakes Steel and Granite City Steel and by a continued weakness in sheet steel prices.

However, in March, the steel group's earnings improved significantly over January and February.

"With the steel operations now running smoothly, our order book full and prices firming, we expect substantial improvement by our steel business in the second quarter."

"Unless economic conditions change substantially, our aluminum and financial services businesses could have record earnings for the year," Love added.

National's steel group earned an operating profit of $5.6 million in the first quarter, compared with an operating loss of $29 million in the first quarter of 1983.

This makes the fourth consecutive quarter of operating profits for the steel group, reflecting stronger demand for flat-rolled sheet products from the automotive and other consumer markets and the benefits of cost improvement programs.

In the second quarter, operating results and realized prices should improve as the recovery in demand for flat-rolled products continues, Love commented.

Steel shipments and sales in the first quarter were 1.2 million tons and $500.9 million, respectively, compared with 0.9 million tons and $420.9 million in the first quarter of 1983.

Steel production in the first quarter was 1.3 million tons, compared with 1.1 million tons in the earlier first quarter. (The above shipments, sales and production for 1983 have been restated to exclude the former Weirton Division's results.)

In February 1984, National announced a $90 million capital program for its Great Lakes Steel Division that includes construction of the most modern electrolytic galvanizing line in the United States to support future automotive material requirements.

Charge GC man in robbery case

James C. Parrott, 21, of 2161 Benton St., was charged with armed robbery in an informational document issued Monday by the Madison County state's attorney's office.

He appeared in the Granite City court at 4 p.m. Monday and bond was set at $75,000. A mittimus was issued and he was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

At the same hearing, Parrott entered an innocent plea to a charge of public consumption of alcohol, a charge filed against him when he was first arrested at 10:45 p.m. Saturday at Kate Street and Jerden Avenue, just one hour and 20 minutes after a Granite City man reported being robbed of his wallet by a knife-wielding assailant.

John M. Overturf of the 4900 block of Kirkpatrick Homes was walking north on Ridgeway Avenue, next to the 3600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, when a man walking in the opposite direction said, "How are you doing?" and asked where he lived. Overturf alleged the man held a folding knife with a three-inch blade in his hand and pointed it at him. He tried to grab the weapon and a struggle ensued, with Overturf receiving a laceration to the right thumb.

During the skirmish, Overturf fell backward beneath the assailant who allegedly held the knife to the victim's throat, threatened him and stole his wallet. The robber also made him empty his pants pockets of change, Overturf alleged to officers.

The man then fled into the Kirkpatrick Homes and across the old cemetery grounds in the housing complex with Overturf in pursuit, but lost sight of the man when he ran west in an alley in the 2600 block, between Hodges Avenue and Henry Street. A description was given police.

Parrott's arrest on the alcohol-related charge came about after he allegedly caused problems at a lounge and was seen walking and drinking from a bottle of beer by an officer who was heading for the bar at the time.

Let Dixon know how we feel

We understand that U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon is attempting to schedule a trip to Granite City in the near future to study sewer breaks here and how the federal government can assist the city in repairing them.

Indeed, this would be a worthwhile trip. It might also be an ideal opportunity for citizens to let Sen. Dixon know how they feel about the federal government's forcing Illinois to mandate auto emission testing for Madison and St. Clair counties and the Chicago metropolitan area.

As shown in today's Reader's React, indications received by the Press-Record are that the majority of the population does not feel that being forced to undergo an annual $10 inspection of each vehicle and then having to make $50 to $100 repairs on those needing work is going to help the quality of the air here significantly. We agree.

Perhaps it is time some organization stops talking and gets active. Perhaps a petition drive against the forced emissions testing could be successfully launched and the petitions presented to Dixon when he is here. Perhaps others in the community have better ideas how to tell the government we are furious over being "singled out" for expensive and inconvenient emissions testing just because we dare live in an industrialized area.

It is time to tell the runaway federal government that we are tired of Uncle Sam sticking his hands in our pockets and taking away our free time whenever he feels like it.

If we sit idle and miss this opportunity to tell Sen. Dixon and others in the federal government how we feel about this intrusion on our freedom, then we deserve whatever they choose to do to us.

NKK, a record of improvements

Granite City Steel officials were kind enough to provide us this week with a booklet on Nippon Kokan KK, the company desiring to purchase half of National Steel. While it is difficult to be optimistic about change, particularly of the unknown variety, nearly everything we read and hear about the deal seems positive.

The booklet notes, as we have previously mentioned, that Nippon Kokan, founded in 1912, is the largest steel producer in the world with a raw steel capacity of 22 million tons. In the fiscal year which ended in March 1983, NKK had sales of more than $6.3 billion (76 percent from steel operations), had profits of $111 million and steel production of 11.46 million tons.

NKK is a publicly-held company with more than three billion shares of stock owned by more than 100,000 shareholders.

It is a company not afraid to spend money. NKK's Fukuyama Works is the world's largest steelmaking complex located on 4,100 acres of land reclaimed from the sea. Raw iron materials arrive on the east side of the straight-line facility and finished products are shipped from the west side.

NKK's Keihin Works was modernized in 1969 when the company built a large man-made island a mile off shore and built the plant over a 10-year period on that island. It is an efficient straight-line plant with full utilization of by-product gases, recycled heat and can use oil or coal, depending upon supply and price.

Modern technology is used throughout both giant plants. We can only assume that NKK plans to buy National Steel's facilities with an eye toward improving their efficiency and quality and may also bring NKK's motto here, "A clean, green steel works."

The motto refers to NKK's plan to plant trees, shrubs and grass with their steelmaking facilities to provide a comfortable natural environment for their employees. NKK also is a strong believer in strict pollution control, protecting air, water and noise. In the Fukuyama plant alone, more than $583 million has been spent for pollution control equipment.

NKK also believes in the "quality circle" concept and has 23,063 employees in 3,610 quality circles who made 195,822 proposals which saved the company $22.3 million. Now that's listening to your employees' ideas.

We think we are embarking on an exciting future with NKK as a partner and feel NKK's record shows good reason for that optimism.

Court releases teen causing fear in KPH

To the Editor:

Relentless in his pursuit of those who have no hope of winning, a youth endeavors continuously to encourage other boys through fear of repercussions, to assist him in harassing and victimizing those residents of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Lacking adequate supervision and discipline, his parents pamper the 15-year-old teenager and swallows the many lies he convinces them to be true and that if there is to be a punishment, it won't be for long, as he usually back talks his mother, often striking her when she smacks him lightly.

So be it young or old, his untiring record is rapidly becoming a long one, due to the continual flow of complaints by telephone to the Granite City Police Department, but only one signed complaint has been filed with the court.

A common question is often asked: what good would it do to file as he'd only be released to the custody of his parents, whereas he would then proceed to victimize and harass those who have filed a complaint against him.

Can't something be done to effectively and efficiently discourage this juvenile delinquent from his relentless tactics? Whose problem will he eventually become once adulthood has been reached?

LIVING IN FEAR

Recognized for being the mother to many

To the Editor:

I don't know whether Granite City has ever had "A Mother of the Year," but I do know that one of your local people is more deserving of the title. She is a 69-year-old widow, who for the past 25 years has been foster mother for over 140 children.

I have known her for over 50 years and can't remember seeing her without a child in her arms and two or three toddlers tagging along. This is besides raising five of her own, a number of grandchildren and even two of her own great grandchildren. She also kept nieces and nephews.

One wall in her home is papered with photos of all these children, some of whom are now grown and come to visit her with children of their own. When I last talked to her, she had seven, three in diapers (not pampers). She still washes diapers.

She gave up all social life of her own to care for homeless children. With Mothers' Day coming up, I would like to see her get the recognition she so richly deserves.

She is Mrs. Ruby Barker, who lives on Route 111.

Truman did what was right, not popular

To the Editor:

The question we should ask ourselves about Harry S. Truman is why he strikes us as being so special.

A sure sign that he was a cut above the rest of us in that his figure grows larger as the years pass. With most of our presidents, it is the opposite — as time passes, their figures diminish and their faces blur.

When we recall President Truman think of a person with extraordinary strength of character and an unforgettable force of personality.

It is my idea that Harry Truman's greatest asset was an inner sense of himself, his value, and a commitment to do what is right.

For politicians, the need to be approved and applauded is strong. It can become overpowering. The last thing a politician wants to do is take a risk.

Yet, throughout his life, Harry Truman demonstrated a willingness to take the heat. He loved applause — but if he had to choose between being applauded and doing what was right, he could do what was right. He was willing to take a risk in order to do what was right.

There were times when he endured criticism and vilification as terribly as anything heaped on Pres. Lincoln.

For example, he did more for the cause of civil rights than any president in 75 years. He was denounced for it in many quarters. To most observers, his alienation of the South sealed his doom for the 1948 presidential election.

In his second term, the headline-hunting of Joseph McCarthy failed to raise the president, who was McCarthy's principal target.

Public opinion seemed to explode when he dismissed General MacArthur from command in Korea. There were work stoppages by longshoremen, resolutions by public bodies, hangings in effigy, petitions. He was booed at the opening baseball game of the season.

Gen. MacArthur was received as a returning hero. Pres. Truman bore it all without flinching.

"You have got to decide what is right to do, and then do it, even if it is unpopular," he told his staff as the storm broke over MacArthur's dismissal.

None of his decisions has been so resoundingly vindicated by the judgment of history as his dismissal of MacArthur, whose conduct demonstrated an unwillingness to accept the supremacy of civilian authorities over the military.

Harry Truman was special, I believe, because he did not live from opinion poll to opinion poll. He was not a leaf drifting on the water. He was not a feather carried on the wind.

He was a person with a sense of right and a willingness to act on his values, even when it hurt.

TRASH STASHERS LACKED FOLLOWUPS

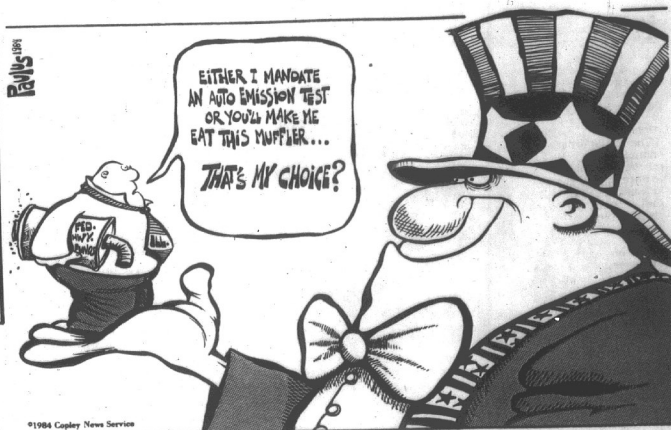

To the Editor:

Congratulations to the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts, leaders and mothers who participated in "Stash the Trash" this spring.

"Onions" to whomsoever was supposed to follow up and pick up the trash bags. They were still sitting around the following Monday — many of which were torn open by dogs.

It's a shame little children have to pick up after sloppy littering adults, anyway.

Press-Record readers were asked how they feel about the federal government forcing Illinois to implement mandatory automobile emissions testing in this area rather than to lose federal highway construction funds. Their reactions follow.

Shirley Holeman, Granite City

"I think it's good because there are a lot of cars that need it."

Ed Heintz, Granite City

"If they are going to do it (emissions testing) in three areas (Madison and St. Clair counties and the Chicago metropolitan area), they ought to do it in all Illinois counties."

Denny Roderick, Granite City

"I don't think Illinois needs to go to that (emissions testing). Instead, there should be stiffer laws passed requiring motorists to have insurance, at least liability. Also, there should be a law insurance companies cannot refuse anyone."

Frank Buchel, Granite City

"I'm against it (emissions testing). Not because of emissions, but because it's a racket. I've been through it in Missouri. It's just a way for someone to make a buck."

Upset over ban on flowers in May Court

To the Editor:

I am a parent that is asking when were the officials of our high school given the authority to take away our "Freedom of Choice?"

A notice was posted at the high school on Monday, April 23rd, to the effect that none of the girls participating in May Day or Spring carnival, or by whatever name it is called, will be allowed to carry or wear flowers this year.

The reason is that some families cannot afford to give their daughters flowers.

What happens to the young ladies that worked and saved their money for maybe the only bouquet they have ever had? This was the case for me when I graduated from this school and I know I was not the only one who worked for her gown and flowers.

Most of the girls who wanted silk flowers have had them ordered for several months and have invested a great deal of money to be told that there is no longer going to be "freedom of choice" in our school.

These bouquets cannot be returned.

Since some people can't afford something, now no one can have it, even if it was earned. If these kinds of decisions keep being made, you may someday live in a poor tract home because someone in the United States can't afford better.

I realize that flowers are not a big issue, but when does dictation to what we can or cannot do stop? We are supposed to live in a free society.

A DISAPPOINTED MOM

Ban on Sunday car sales 'big brotherism'

To the Editor,

I wonder how long it will be before this denial of freedom is extended to other areas of commerce. How soon will it be before you will no longer be able to shop for food, medicine, clothing, television, housing, etc., on Sunday or other legislatively designated days of the week?

Sunday closing is only part of the new car dealership, special interest story. If you check with your representative or senator you should also find the General Assembly has been busy legislating where you will be able to shop for a new car in addition to when you can shop.

The Illinois General Assembly has passed legislation designed to limit the number of specific make, new car dealerships within an area. This is all well and good if you are an established dealer. What about people who would like to start a new dealership, but are prevented from doing so because of the law? No one would attempt to open a dealership unless they thought it would be profitable. If another dealership in a territory would severely affect all, it would stand to reason the new dealer would be included in those hurt — unless the established dealer was taking advantage of the public because of a quasi-monopoly situation provided by law.

Whenever a legitimate monopoly exists, as in the case of utilities, the public is protected by a regulatory commission. Who protects the public in the case of legislated dealerships? No one or no thing, that's who. The public is on its own and forced into either suffering the abuses of a government-protected, local dealer or traveling to a distant dealer.

If your representative or senator pleads ignorance of the limited dealership law, prohibiting same make, new car dealerships within 10 miles of an existing dealership in counties with a population of more than 300,000 or 15 miles where the county population is less than 300,000, suggest they look up House Bill 1753. It would be surprising to find your representative or senator didn't know about House Bill 1753, especially because as a member of the Illinois General Assembly they had to override Governor Thompson's veto.

This issue has been a real tug-of-war between the governor, legislators and judiciary. The governor, circuit court and two judges of the Illinois Supreme court opposed it. Unfortunately, certain well-financed and politically-connected dealers appear to have been able to sway the majority of those entrusted with the power of state government and the public lost.

Supreme Court Justices Seymour

Simon and Robert Underwood said in reference to the new law, "Under the present law, the auto dealer who wishes to close on Sunday may defy the interest of purchasers and serve only his own, with the assurance that by doing otherwise. The statute supplies a legislatively-mandated respite from competition." It's unfortunate some others don't view it that way.

So what are you and I going to do about it? We really don't know each other's opinion on a specific issue, short of a referendum, because we lack a central clearing house. I am offering to be that clearing house on this issue. If people will send me post cards with their names, addresses and either the words "Yes Sunday Car Sales" or "No Sunday Car Sales," I will tally the results and report the findings to major newspapers.

Please send your postcard addressed to: Andrew J. Clark, 1226 62nd Street, Downers Grove, Ill. 60516.

A JOB WELL DONE

To the Editor,

"Cheers" to the teachers of St. Elizabeth School, recently, when the children put on a very enjoyable "Spring Festival." The music, songs, and skits the children put on were great. They all worked very hard, along with the teachers, who were very good with their performances.

Everyone seemed to enjoy it, along with parents, aunts and uncles, young and old.

A job well done.

Dialogue on drugs

A column by
The Granite City Chemical Task Force

One of the best methods to combat substance abuse is knowledge. And one of the best ways to become knowledgeable about drugs is through a program called ITI, or the Illinois Teenage Institute on substance abuse.

The program is a six-day seminar offered twice a year, during the summer, to persons going to be a sophomore, junior or senior in high school, the coming year. This year, the program is offered July 16-21 and July 23-28 at the 4-H Memorial Camp, Allerton Park, Monticello, Ill.

ITI is an educational experience where teens learn about the effects of alcohol and other drug abuse on individuals, families and communities. They also learn about developing healthy self-concepts and self-awareness, expressing their thoughts and feelings and about decision making, communication, leadership and problem solving.

Operation Snowball and Snowflake are offspring of ITI and the Granite City Chemical Task Force believe these programs are very worthwhile for young adults. For this reason, we are helping young adults find scholarships to cover the $165 per participant fee. Any individual or group interested in assisting these young people in a learning experience is welcome.

Applications can be obtained by calling 345-3200. The deadline is June 4. Please contact the Granite City Chemical Task Force at 931-3010 or 931-6647 if you have further questions. Let's support Granite City's youth and show them people care about them.

Anyone having questions or comments about drug or alcohol use, may write to: Dialogue on Drugs, Post Office Box 278, Granite City, Ill., 62040. The task force meets at 7 p.m. every Thursday at Maryville School, Room 140.

2 runaway girls found in closet

Two 15-year-old girls, one from Granite City and the other from Farmington, Mo., both listed as runaways, were found hiding in a closet at the apartment of Gregory L. Wiegand, 30, at 2215 Washington Ave., at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Wiegand was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Three 15-year-old youths at the dwelling also were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. The parents of the three boys were contacted but all declined to post bonds and apparently wanted them to remain in jail overnight, reports said.

The Missouri girl was released to a juvenile agency for placement in a foster home. An assistant state's attorney ordered the Granite City girl to be held at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home in Edwardsville for investigation of burglary.

Police were first called to the address because of a reported disturbance and found two of the youths had been fighting inside. The ruckus had stopped, but the boys continued to yell and scream, disturbing residents and refused to leave peacefully, the officer alleged.

A third youth then came out of a closet and began shouting at officers and acting unruly. At this point, Wiegand was asked if anyone else was in the apartment and allegedly said no, reports said. Soon afterward, the girls were found hiding in a closet and Wiegand was arrested.

EIGHT CHARGED AFTER MOTEL ROOM PARTY

Eight people from Granite City, including a 12-year-old boy, were taken into custody last week, when officers were called to investigate a loud party at Holiday Inn at 2:34 a.m.

The 12-year-old was not charged. He was released to his grandfather after police were unable to contact the youth's mother. Police were told the youth was in the custody of Charles Widel, 19, who was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor and unlawful possession of marijuana.

Brian Towery, 20, was charged with two counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He, Rickey Maykopet, 17; Judith Hoelter, 18; Kelly Tower, 17, and two juveniles, ages 15 and 16, were also charged with unlawful possession of alcohol and unlawful possession of marijuana.

Police said the motel registration card indicated the room was supposed to be occupied by two persons. Officers described the room as a shambles and said they found a large number of beer cans and cartons in the room and found the bathroom sink covered with cans and bottles of beer. One man was lying in water in the bathtub passed out. Several of the others arrested helped police arouse him.

Credit office to close

AAA Credit Service will permanently close its Granite City office at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue this summer, according to Dick Lauck, owner.

Late last year, the company opened a new headquarters in Belleville and transferred seven employees there. The remaining five Granite City employees will be offered positions in the Belleville headquarters. AAA also operates AAA Credit Service in St. Louis and Medical Dental Hospital Bureau in Belleville.

Lauck said no firm closing date has been set, but an announcement will be made soon. He said the move to consolidate the two offices was made to provide better customer service.

"We are open every night of the week now and with five people (in Granite City) it is tough to keep two people working each night. We have 10 collectors here (in Belleville), so that will help, Lauck said.

AAA in Granite City opened about 1961 and had been the headquarters of the AAA chain until the new Belleville office opened last year. The firm employs several Quad-Cityans.

The charge had been filed by police five days after the crime. He was sentenced in April by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill to probation two and a half years, plus three months in jail, 70 hours of public service work and $70 court costs.

Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill this spring dismissed a 1983 aggravated battery charge against Burt Treadwell, 57, of 214 Waterman Ave. The dismissal was based on a motion made by the state's attorney March 29.

GC burglary probation

Circuit Judge Paul J. O'Neill has placed Thomas Kasson on two-year probation and ordered him to pay $30 court costs on a Jan. 16 Granite City burglary charge. Kasson, 18, of Percy, Ill., pleaded guilty March 12; the sentencing followed at the Madison County Courthouse.

Questions Venice occupancy permit

Non-compliance with the housing occupancy ordinance and a discussion on fire hydrants were issues discussed at last week's meeting of the Venice Council.

First Ward Alderman John Fleig asked for the revocation of a 90-day repair permit granted to a homeowner in his ward who has not complied with the housing occupancy ordinance. Apparently, utilities at the dwelling have been reconnected, he said.

"I believe the health inspector should go there with the building inspector and take a look at that property. It's in bad shape all the way around and I think we should revoke the 90-day permit and start all over again," he said.

The need for additional fire hydrants in the vicinity of the Blaisell Street Apartments again was discussed.

THIRD WARD Alderman John Ervin reported having talked with the owner of the buildings and the water company. He learned it is possible for the water company to move the present hydrants on Circle Drive and Meridian Street across the roadway, closer to the apartment complex.

Although the water company would run the line from the current hydrants across the street to the opposite sidewalk, a private contractor would be needed to connect the line to the hydrant, he advised.

Concern was expressed at an earlier meeting by Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr., who asked at last week's session for the state fire marshal to inspect the property. "If the state fire marshal says that Mr. Thomas and his complex are in compliance with the city's fire regulations, that is it. But, I think we should do this for the welfare of the children living there," he said.

FIRST WARD Alderman Phillip Daniels suggested moving the present fire plugs to points nearer both entrances to the apartments. "That might do it and we could see if the (fire) truck can drop a line and reach all buildings," he said.

Venice Fire Chief Bill Meehan said he would like to see another fire plug near the apartments. "I imagine the state fire marshal was down and checked it (apartments over) before approving the plans," he said, adding that the department does have 2,000 feet of hose and "we can reach it."

The aldermanic fire committee was asked by Mayor Tyrone Echols to further investigate the problem.

Vuagniaux heads school trustees

Earl Vuagniaux of Edwardsville was elected president of the Regional Board of School Trustees at their regular April meeting. Vuagniaux will serve for the biennium 1983 and 1984, having been a member of the board since his appointment in 1980 and subsequent election to a six-year term in November 1983.

Vuagniaux is an attorney in downtown Edwardsville and serves on numerous boards and committees including the Madison County Special Education Advisory Committee, the Advisory Council for St. Joseph's Hospital in Highland and the Specialized Services Handicapped Workshop.

The trustees hold title to all school properties in the county and are responsible for the sale of school property and the granting of easements at the request of the local school boards of education and conduct hearings pertaining to territory detachment and annexation between school districts as petitioned by residents. Trustees serve without compensation.

Other members of the trustees are: Bill Keller of Collinsville, retiring president; Joseph Higgins of Bethalto; Willard Flagg of Moro; Homer Huber of Granite City; Joseph Berry of Alton and C.A. Serve 6 warrants on East St. Louis man

Ronald Lee Daugherty, 28, of East St. Louis, entered an innocent plea in a court appearance at 3:30 p.m. Monday in response to charges contained in six warrants issued through the Granite City Police Department, all alleging criminal damage to autos.

Daugherty, who was picked up on a traffic stop at 16th Street and Madison Avenue the previous night, was ordered held for the Illinois Department of Corrections on alleged parole violation.

The local charges stemmed from complaints signed by John Gancheff, 3108 Edgewood Ave., who had tires punctured on five autos and a travel trailer, all parked at his residence, on Jan. 15, 1983. Gancheff's son, Steve, went out to get a newspaper in the early hours and alleged seeing a man near a family vehicle. The person jumped into a waiting station wagon which sped away.

At daylight, the damage to the vehicles was discovered and an unsigned note, smeared with ketchup and containing threatening remarks, was found on the windshield.

Host families sought for French teens

Share your home and family life with a French teenager this summer by participating in the Nacel Summer Hosting Program. Homes are needed for 160 students, ages 15 to 18, and their chaperones who will arrive in Chicago on Aug. 1 for a four-week visit to Illinois communities.

All families are eligible to apply for this program. It is not necessary to speak French because the students have studied English for a number of years. The students, who come from all parts of France, wish to learn more about our American way of life by living with an Illinois family. The Nacel organization provides medical and accident insurance and the students bring their own spending money.

The students will have opportunity to develop greater fluency in speaking English and to establish lasting American friendships. Frequently, American teenagers are invited by the family of their French visitor for a French homestay the following summer.

Allen and Clare Hibbard, educators in White Bear Lake, Minn., a St. Paul suburban community, are coordinating the efforts to find homes. Persons interested in hosting a student may write to them at 4043 Birch Knoll Drive, White Bear Lake, Minn. 55110, or telephone 1-812-429-7130.

Charge man with cruelty to animal

John H. Kingsley, 29, of 3004 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with cruelty to animals and disorderly conduct during the weekend. He was released Monday after posting a $104 cash bond, pending a hearing.

Officers were called to Kingsley's address in reference to a fight and found him outside his apartment looking at a small dog which was injured and lying on the ground.

The man allegedly told police that he became mad at a 12-year-old neighbor boy and threw the dog to the floor and hit it in the head to keep from striking the child.

While there, officers alleged Kingsley began yelling obscenities in a loud voice, causing neighbors to come outdoors and he was arrested.

SCIENCE AWARD winner Charles Harper, 1103 Market St., Madison, earned the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award at Madison High School. The screening is a free service, takes approximately one hour, and will be by appointment only. The screening site is at the Venice Elementary School.

KC buys school food equipment

Surplus cafeteria and food preparation equipment at Johnson Elementary School is being sold to Tri-City Knights of Columbus Council 1068 for its bid of $3,500.

The Board of Education previously sold the Johnson building to the KC, which will utilize it as its meeting hall. The structure is designed so that most interior walls are movable.

Ronald Landman, director of school buildings and grounds, said, "When the Knights of Columbus purchased Johnson they expressed interest in purchasing the surplus cafeteria equipment that had been left in the building. All usable equipment had been removed and transferred to other schools, and the remainder was not needed by the district."

"Two companies from St. Louis which buy used equipment were contacted to obtain quotes on the value of this equipment."

"National Fixture Co. offered $3,500 for all equipment at Emerson, Lake, Johnson and Logan excluding the Lake deep freezer, the Emerson garbage disposal, the Johnson three-door freezer and a Logan work table and malt machine."

"Bensinger offered $5,829, including $2,950 for Johnson equipment, $1,754 for Logan, $575 for Washington, $325 for Lake and $2 for Emerson."

Landman and Michael A. Kana, director of food services, described the $3,500 offer for Johnson equipment as a fair price, and the board agreed.

In another matter, the Food and Nutrition Section of the Illinois State Board of Education reviewed the school lunch program and voiced compliments. In-depth studies were made at Granite City High School, Coolidge Junior High and Maryville Elementary School.

The state examined 1,100 free and reduced lunch applications and found only one application contained an error. Criteria include names, Social Security information, income and five other factors.

Caterers were found to meet or surpass all four performance standards.

Numbers of free and reduced-price meals claimed for reimbursement are within the number correctly approved for such meals.

The system for counting and recording meal totals for paid, free and reduced-price meals complies with all regulations, and the meals have the stipulated food components.

Recommendations being implemented are a new coding system for lunch cards to better assure anonymity, wider warehouse separation between cleaning supplies and food items, individually dated cases of food commodities, hair restraints worn by all student workers, and provision of thermometers in dry storage areas.

Charge young woman with license misuse

Receiving a report of an underage young woman drinking at a Granite City lounge at 6 p.m. Saturday, an officer checked the bar but believed the patrons appeared to be all of legal age.

At 7:30 p.m., an officer saw a girl leaving the lounge who appeared much younger under different lighting conditions. Asked if she was Sharon Heath, the girl allegedly answered "No" and drove off in an auto.

A check of the license revealed the car was owned by a Sharon R. Heath, 2730 Sunset Drive, and the vehicle was halted at Terrace Lane and Johnson Road.

When asked for her driver's license, the woman allegedly produced a license made out to a 22-year-old woman with different name. After talking with the officer, Miss Heath offered her own license showing her age as 19, it was alleged.

She was charged with purchase of alcohol by a person under 21 years,

At 7:15 p.m. Friday, officers received a second call of a fight occurring near the Edison address and found Ryan walking toward 22nd Street.

Progress by Ill. Power in continuing its low rates

Chairman Wendell J. Kelley of 60-year-old Illinois Power Co. said at the 1984 annual meeting last month that "we at Ill. Power must keep in mind the economic health of our part of Illinois, which is largely dependent on an unfailing source of safe and reliable electricity and gas."

Noting that his firm is by far the lowest-cost provider of these services in Illinois, the chairman reported much progress is being made in assuring continuance of low rates.

"Our region needs power and natural gas at costs competitive with those in other parts of the state and nation and, increasingly, with other parts of the world," he told stockholders, assembled in Decatur.

"Our managerial job is to balance the interests of employees, customers and stockholders in high pay, low utility bills and high dividends."

"In 1984 we again have gone to the European bond market, this time for sale of $100 million in eight-year, 12.5 percent debentures at a considerable saving over similar financing available in this country. Our first financing of this kind was in June 1982."

"Proceeds from the current sale are being applied to our construction program and are about half of the outside money we expect to raise in 1984 for construction."

"One of the most important recent developments was the expansion of our partnership with Soyland Power Cooperative and Western Illinois Power Cooperative, already partners in our Clinton nuclear generating station, of which they own 20 percent."

"The new arrangement gives the two the right to the output of a portion of our fossil-fuel generation, and use of our transmission and sub-transmission systems," Kelley noted.

"In addition to the 190,000 kilowatts they will receive as part of the program are about half of the owners of Clinton, initially they will purchase 400,000 kilowatts of fossil-fuel capacity. This agreement will make them our largest electric customers and will enable us to keep our electric rates lower than they otherwise would be."

"PUTS A CAP on the co-ops' share of the cost of Clinton. It is, we believe, a wise and sound kind of partnership that will benefit all concerned, including our state's economic health."

"At Clinton the last of the 'stop work' orders was lifted in late 1983."

The pace of construction has been increasing and good progress is being made.

"Since the first of the year, we have pretty well maintained our schedule and even gained back a little of the time lost because of the late lifting of stop orders."

"Major milestones recently completed include vacuum testing of the main condenser and filling of the suppression pool."

"In coordination with state and local governments, our emergency planning is on schedule and we do not anticipate it will present any major problems."

"WE ARE OPTIMISTIC about commercial operation in late 1986. When it is on line and running, we will have assured the customers and people of our territory plenty of safe and reliable electric energy that is independent of restrictions or loss of other sources of fuel."

"We try to make sure our employees are compensated for their skills and efforts at competitive levels that will enable us to keep and recruit a highly productive work force. Their purchases and the taxes they pay are an important economic asset in all of the communities where they live and work."

"Their jobs and security depend on the financial health and stability of the company."

"That leaves us with an apparent conflict of interests between customers and owners—electric and gas rates versus earnings."

"With the increases we received in January 1983, our electric rates are still the lowest of any major Illinois utility."

"Ill. Power revenue per kilowatt-hour for 1983 from all classes of retail customers was about 5.5 cents."

"The other major Illinois investor-owned utilities all had significantly higher revenue per kilowatt-hour. Commonwealth Edison was 37 percent higher. Central Ill. Light 27 percent higher and Central Ill. Public Service 24 percent higher."

"INDUSTRIAL CUSTOMERS get lower rates from us than those of the other major Illinois utilities; in 1983, our industrial customers paid us 4.07 cents per kilowatt-hour, while those of Commonwealth paid 5.89 cents or 45 percent more, with the others ranging in between."

"Our relatively low industrial rates are certainly an inducement for major employers to stay, expand or move into our territory. We are working with communities throughout our territory to persuade them to do so."

"Our industrial rates help create more and better jobs, and help us keep our residential rates down by enabling us to get more and better use of our generating and transmission facilities."

"THE NATURAL GAS industry is going through a structural change," Kelley related.

"In the 1970s it was highly regulated and prices were being held considerably below market value. As a result, the industry was plagued by supply shortages."

"Our response to the supply condition was to make investments in gas transmission lines and storage systems to limit our dependence on any single supplier—and to take advantage of supply opportunities as they became available."

"Our ambitious program resulted in Ill. Power having the most flexible gas supply system of any Illinois utility."

"This allowed us to make gas available for industries and homes during times when natural gas was unavailable to some customers in the service areas of other Illinois gas distributors."

"Investments increase our revenue requirements. But even with our system investments, our retail prices have remained competitive when compared to what is charged by other Illinois gas distributors."

"In the 1980s, regulation is being replaced by competitive market forces and a surplus in gas supply."

"Our investment in supply opportunities has enabled us to take advantage of pricing opportunities."

"Panhandle, one of our lowest cost suppliers, became one of our highest priced suppliers. We were able to replace about a fourth of our annual purchases from Panhandle with less costly supplies."

"IT HAS BEEN 15 months since our last general increase. We will be filing for a reduction in our prices charged to certain large-volume industrial users of natural gas, in order to compete more favorably with other energy sources."

"We are putting off requesting any electric rate increase as long as we can."

"Our success in reducing costs and the economic recovery in our territory make it possible to reduce our industrial gas prices and forestall the need to increase electric rates. We are doing everything possible to assure that our prices remain competitive."

"FOR STOCK OWNERS, it is important to look at quality of earnings. Despite overall record earnings of $3.80 per share, the cash component amounted to just $2.02—higher than in recent years but still short of levels achieved in 1973. The non-cash component is of no use to us in paying our current operating and construction costs."

"To show how little justification there is to measure our real financial health by the record profits, suppose that in 1984 we ended with exactly the same revenues and expenses as 1983. With the same amounts coming in and going out, our reported profits would go up 14 percent but would not provide one additional cent of cash to the company."

"This is because the profits would include the non-cash item called AFUDC—allowance for funds used during construction," Kelley pointed out.

"As we spend more for construction, AFUDC increases and causes our reported profits to rise."

"If the profit picture was as bright as it has been depicted by some, it would seem that the owners of the business would be faring well."

"But over the last five years our dividend growth rate has been about 2 percent, far short of the Consumer Price Index of 8.8 percent and less than half the dividend growth rate for the rest of the utility industry of about 5.8 percent. Our stockholders aren't reaping major gains."

"IN YEARS JUST AHEAD, our two greatest challenges will be to increase cash earnings and maintain competitive rates. Neither by itself will be sufficient."

"Increasing rates is a necessary component of this process but any increase should be limited to levels dictated by alternate fuel prices and rates charged by other utilities."

"As rates rise, our cash earnings will improve; as our financial health improves through more cash earnings, we will have the financial strength to keep our rates at the lowest levels. So, there is not much conflict between the interests of customers and stockholders."

"Stockholders need customers and this need can only be met with low rates. Customers need stockholders' investment, and that investment is only possible with a healthy company."

"WE HAVE DEFERRED every possible project that does not diminish the safety and reliability of our services. These economies and deferrals total millions of dollars each year."

"In the past five years our operating expenses have increased an average of 6.4 percent annually, compared to 8.8 percent inflation. In 1983, our operating costs were actually 3.8 percent less than in 1982."

"Our annual electric operating and maintenance cost per customer is $653, compared with an average of $800 for all Illinois utilities. Our operating costs for a megawatt hour of electricity is $18.83, compared to the average of $24.70."

"Any increase in energy costs will make it more difficult for many of our customers to make both ends meet."

"Our Energy Assistance Foundation is off to a good start, making grants of nearly $100,000 to eight community organizations."

"It will continue to be of help in the years to come. This alone does not solve all the energy problems of the poor and the elderly, but it represents the type of program capable of providing permanent solutions."

Driver of stolen car arrested in Madison

Granite City and Madison police converged during the weekend on the home of Floyd L. Wallace, 38, of 612 Alton Ave., Madison, who was being sought on a warrant alleging felony theft of a vehicle. The charge was contained in an informational document issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office. Two Granite City units covered the rear of the dwelling, while a Madison officer and a Granite City sergeant went to the front door.

Wallace reportedly emerged from the door, saw the officers and started to go to the rear of the house. At that point, he saw the two police units and began retracing his steps, going back inside the house. An officer shouted at him to halt, but he allegedly ignored the warning and continued on into the house, reports said. Police forced the door open and he was taken into custody.

The warrant stemmed from the alleged theft of a car and a high speed chase, occurring April 28. The pursuit ended when the vehicle Wallace was driving struck a utility pole at 20th Street and Grand Avenue, continued on and hit a second pole in an alley at the rear of 1934 Grand Ave.

The second crash, which broke the pole off at ground level, resulted in Wallace being thrown from the vehicle and he was lying on the pavement when the pursuing officer pulled alongside.

Wallace was injured, but conscious, reports noted. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred to John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis.

The 1969 Chrysler Imperial had no registration plates and allegedly was stolen from a rear parking area at Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, reports said.

Ownership of the auto was verified by a representative of the car dealership, who came to the crash scene, authorities said.

Wallace also was charged with fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer, driving while his license was revoked, disobeying a traffic control device and driving without headlights.

He was released from the hospital last week and was held briefly in the St. Louis County Jail before being freed, authorities said. Granite City officers learned Wallace had returned to Madison and he was arrested.

Wallace appeared in the Granite City Court at 3:25 p.m. Monday and bond was set at $25,000. He also was ordered held for the Illinois Department of Corrections on a warrant citing violation of probation. He was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

ALLEGES MAN PUSHES CHILD IN BATHTUB

Daniel J. Pieper, 25, of 3243 Maryville Road, was booked on a charge of battery when he reported to Granite City police headquarters at 1:45 p.m. Monday. In a court appearance at 3:25 p.m. that day, he pled innocent and was released at 3 p.m. after posting a $225 cash bond.

The charge resulted from an incident the previous night at the home of Winifred Stufflebean, 4010 Braden Ave., who alleged Pieper, a former friend, came by the mobile home to get some things and grabbed her 20-month-old daughter who was in the bathtub, pushing the child and striking her head against the tub.

Pieper also made threats with a baseball bat, Mrs. Stufflebean alleged. After the incident was reported, police went to Pieper's home, but he was not there at that time.

SS Cyril and Methody to celebrate Feast Day Friday

The parish of S.S. Cyril and Methody Eastern Orthodox Church, 4770 Maryville Road, will celebrate its patronal Feast Day on Friday, May 11. Great Vespers will be served on Thursday evening, May 10, at 7 p.m. to which the Orthodox clergy and members of the St. Louis-Illinois area have been invited.

The Divine Liturgy will be celebrated Friday morning at 9 a.m., and the parish banquet will be held on Sunday, May 13, following the Divine Liturgy at 10 a.m. in the church hall, the Rev. Steven Kostoff, announces.

With the announcement Rev. Kostoff reviewed a history of the Eastern Orthodox Church.

The church has bestowed upon the two missionary brothers, S.S. Cyril and Methody — exalted title of "Equal-to-the-Apostles and Teachers of the Slavs." These are not idle words, nor is this title empty rhetoric. The evangelization of the pagan Slavs begun by Sts. Cyril and Methody in the 9th c. meant that this huge body of people would finally enter into the life of the Orthodox Church as it was developing and flowering within the Eastern Roman Empire, often characterized as the Byzantine Empire.

The great work of the two brothers, including the creation of a Slavonic alphabet, helped to form a unique Orthodox Slavonic religious culture. This "conversion" proved to be the beginning of the intimate and indivisible relationship between Slavonic cultural life and the Orthodox Christian faith; it is impossible to understand the historical significance of our people without considering the God-inspired efforts of Sts. Cyril and Methody.

The two brothers were born in Thessalonika; Methody in or about 815 and Cyril in 826 or 827 (actually Cyril's original name was Constantine, his having taken the name of Cyril when he was tonsured a monk).

in Rome in 869 when he was near death). Their father Leo was a high-ranking officer of the Imperial Byzantine government assigned to Thessalonika, which was the second city of the Empire after Constantinople itself.

After receiving very sound and thorough educations in Constantinople, where Constantine-Cyril had so distinguished himself that he was known as the "Philosopher," and after Methody had served as a governor of a Slavonic province, they began their great missionary work on behalf of the church and the Byzantine imperial government. The prince of Moravia, Rastislav, in 863 requested missionaries who could speak to his people in their native Slavonic tongue. At this period of time and development, all of the various Slavonic dialects spoken throughout Central Europe, the Balkans, and Russia were close enough to each other to be quite mutually understandable.

In preparation for the enormous task set before them on this journey, Sts. Constantine-Cyril demonstrated his unique genius by creating a Slavonic alphabet which was subsequently utilized in translating the Gospels, and other essential parts of the Holy Scriptures and liturgical books into the Slavonic language. This initial alphabet was probably the one known as the Glagolitic.

He used the Bulgaro-Macedonian dialect of his native Thessalonika region for his creative translation work. The "Cyrillic" alphabet, later to become much more important historically because it was the direct source of the modern alphabets of Serbs, Macedonians, Russians, and Bulgarians, was most probably created a few decades later by the disciples of Sts. Cyril and Methody who were active in the Balkans following the deaths of their teachers.

This original ecclesiastical language was known as Old Church Slavonic. A well-known scholar, Dimitri Obolensky, summed up this linguistic work in the following manner: "Thus was created a new literary language, based on the spoken dialect of the Macedonian Slavs, modeled on Greek, and largely ecclesiastical in character. It is known to modern scholars as Old Church Slavonic."

Five years of active missionary work in Moravia, all based on the newly-created Slavonic literary language, proved to be very successful, ultimately securing the approval of the Roman pope. In Rome itself, to where the brothers were invited and to where they then journeyed, this work was further blessed by the Pope Hadrian II who acknowledged and sealed their apostolic labors by placing the Slavonic books on the altar of the Basilica of St. Mark in Maggiora. It was on this trip to Rome, on February 14, that St. Cyril was to die as a tonsured monk, to be buried in the Church of St. Clement (in Rome).

Again, with the active support of the Roman see and of the various princes of Central Europe, St. Methody returned to the field of his missionary work, but now as the Archbishop of Sirmium. However, he met with a determined resistance on the part of the Frankish clergy who deeply resented his use of the Slavonic in his work of evangelization. Their intrigue against him led eventually to his imprisonment for two and one-half years in Swabia. He was released in May, 871, through the intervention of Pope John VIII.

St. Methody, together with his many disciples, was able to bring the light of the Gospel to more of the Slavonic peoples of Central-Eastern Europe, including Bohemia, Silesia, and Poland. Yet, the future of an Orthodox Slavonic Christian culture was destined to flourish elsewhere — in Bulgaria and Macedonia and eventually in Russia — as ultimately the policies of Rome undermined the Slavonic vernacular Christianity of Central Europe, although not until the eleventh century. St. Methody died on April 6, 883, three days after Palm Sunday. He had to witness the near-collapse of his work, for the Pope, fearing trouble with the Frankish Church, banned the Slavonic Liturgy. His disciples were exiled or even sold into slavery.

Boris, king (or khan) of Bulgaria, was baptized with many of his subjects in 864. By 870, Bulgaria was securely within the sphere of the Byzantine cultural world and the Eastern Church, yet fear of Greek domination — which could be exercised through ecclesiastical dominance by the Greek clergy — led Boris to warmly greet the exiled disciples of St. Methody, who were bearers of the Slavonic tradition, when they came down the Danube valley. The leader of this group was Clement, a Byzantine Slav. Next to Sts. Cyril and Methody, he is the most important figure in the history of Slavonic vernacular culture. Boris sent St. Clement to Macedonia, where as a bishop, he preached the Gospel in Slavonic as well as to celebrate the Liturgy for 30 years. He also trained a native clergy. St. Naum was a co-disciple and worker in Macedonia. For about a century, Macedonia was one of the leading centers of Christian culture in Europe. The capital was Ochrid. At least until the end of the 12th century, the Glagolitic alphabet predominated in Macedonia.

In the North-Eastern part of Bulgaria, near Preslav, under Symeon, another school of Slavonic literature grew up. It is probably here that the Cyrillic alphabet replaced the Glagolitic. Also, a great quantity of translated literature came out of this school.

If one appreciates hearing the Gospel and liturgy read, chanted, and sung in a language they were able to understand, then this alone will reveal the importance of Sts. Cyril and Methody. Every people and nation has the right to hear pray, and meditate upon the Word of the living God in their own native language, thus raising them up to be worthy members of the church. The Slavonic which has now become English bears this out and points to the universality of the Gospel.

Sts. Cyril and Methody are the "patrons" of the parish church. They were the main figures in the shaping of the historical, cultural, and spiritual world in which and from which generations of our ancestors were nurtured so as to create in themselves an Orthodox Christian "philosophy of life," according to Rev. Kostoff.

Health is the purpose for the Vadasbense building, the governor said and commended today's college students for being concerned about their health. "As you walk around any college campus, students are more physically fit than the general population. It is a very, very good sign for our future," he added.

If Americans "kept ourselves physically fit and morally strong," millions of dollars spent by government in health care costs could be used to build more such structures, he noted.

After the ceremony, the dignitaries gather at the doorway to cut a ribbon officially opening the new building. That was followed by a surprise birthday party for the governor inside the building with a cake and presents.

Due to the rain, a presentation to unveil five bronze plaques for the lobby of the center was postponed, but President Lazerson explained that the plaques honor the following: — One is for the Southwestern Illinois Council for Higher Education and contains 215 names. Karl Monroe of the Collinsville Herald, a longtime supporter of SIUE, was to unveil that plaque.

Another plaque honors the 81 individual landowners whose property makes up the current SIUE campus.

— MAJOR contributors to the land acquisition fund are honored by a third plaque. A total of 95 major business and private donors who contributed a total of $600,000 are honored on the plaque.

— Another plaque honors the founding faculty and staff.

— The fifth plaque is in honor of the craftsmen and laborers who lost their lives building the SIUE campus, Lazerson explained.

Mother's Day

given her the special qualities necessary to become a foster mother. "I'll have to admit, there's a lot more work being a foster mother, but there's also a lot more kisses and I love you more."

"Being a foster mother can be more emotionally straining than being a biological mother, because you're reminded almost weekly that the child is not yours. 'You're told to accept him as he is, take him into your home, give him your love and then give him up when you are asked to. It's not easy.'"

BUT PAM SAYS being a foster mother has a lot of rewards too. "It seems like foster children really appreciate everything you do for them," she said. "Holidays are a big deal for them because some have never even celebrated that day before. Things like playing catch in the yard or eating birthday cake become major events."

"My happiest moment came when Michael started to talk. He'd been placed in five other foster homes and he was behind in learning to talk. It really made me feel like he felt safe — like he was starting to adjust."

PAM DOES ADMIT that being a mother has been a real learning experience for her. "When I first became a foster care mother, I took care of a 4-month-old baby," she said. "I thought I knew everything there was to know, until I realized the formula for the baby had to be mixed, and I had no idea how to mix it. I made a lot of long-distance, phone calls (to relatives in Wisconsin) that first month."

Pam says she feels relieved that she is going to be able to adopt Michael. "Now I know that he's not going to leave and it makes me feel a lot more secure as a mother. When we leave Granite City, he's going to go with us."

For Pam Johnson, this Mother's Day won't just mean getting the day off, it will mean she can wake up and get a hug and a kiss from her son.

A MOTHER'S LOVE. For Pam Johnson, this Mother's Day will be extra-special, because her nine-year wait to have a child will be fulfilled. She and her husband will adopt 2-year-old Michael. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Q: I'm rather tired of making the last minute panic play in order to cut my taxes, as I did this year, and have done for many years past. Is there any mechanism through which I can make progress at cutting my taxes all year so that, on April 15, the shock isn't so great and maybe I'd even have a pleasant surprise?

A: There are a lot of good ways to cut your taxes all year long. Next time you're in your bank, stop by and talk with one of the officers about the plans available. There is one way that really eases the April 15 pain, and that is through plans which defer taxes. Series EE U.S. Savings Bonds are one tax deferred method. Interest on bonds aren't taxable until they are paid. Another very good method of delaying tax payments, while building up a solid cash reserve, is through investment in a Keogh or Individual Retirement Account. The problem is, many people put off contributing to a Keogh or IRA until it is tax time. They, therefore, lose all the interest their money could have been earning all through the year.

Madison schools seek interest on invested taxes

By PAT HAYLUTZ
for the Press-Record

Madison School Board members voted Thursday night to oppose a resolution supporting a bill which would block repayment of interest on collected taxes. The resolution asks the interest be repaid to taxing bodies by Madison County only if taxing bodies, including school boards, lower their tax levies or allow the interest to be credited to the county for the maintenance of the county jail.

The repayment of interest compounded on taxes collected from 1976 through 1983 must be repaid by Madison County as the result of the settlement of a lawsuit, and Madison County officials support the resolution because of the potential financial burden on county taxpayers.

RECOMMENDING that the board oppose the resolution, Madison School Superintendent John Palchiff said that the taxing bodies are entitled to the interest money, and that it is up to those taxing bodies to determine how the money is spent.

"We're going to have to use that money the way we want, not the way they tell us to," Palchiff stated.

Because board members also are "concerned with the amount of money the governor has identified for education," board members approved expenses for the superintendent and board members to lobby in Springfield on Tuesday, May 15 for better monetary support in education.

PARTICIPANTS will talk with legislators, voicing concerns about cuts in education, and Palchiff encourages all concerned citizens to attend with teachers and administrators.

In a report from Assistant Superintendent Wade James, board members learned that a career awareness day provided to Madison and Venice high school students by the Madison-Venice Rotarians on April 25 was successful, with 50 students participating.

Several area businessmen and government officials participated in the annual Career Awareness Experiences Provided by Rotarians (CAEPER) and James offered special thanks to Gerald McGraw of F.G. McGraw and Co. and Jim Riskovsky of Automotive Engineering for serving on the advisory board.

SUPERINTENDENT Palchiff also reported on the success of the 1984 "Jump for Heart" program, which netted approximately $1,309 for the American Heart and Lung Association.

Eighty-eight sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students participated in the event, jumping rope for three hours on April 5 and collecting pledges. The school is eligible to win a prize for turning in more than $1,000 and several students were given awards for the most pledges collected.

Prize-winners include Carla Reynolds ($134), Carla York ($111), Cathy Laurk ($96), and Neva Samel ($79). The top team of Misses York, Samel, Tina Lindsay, and LeTisha Green collected $321 as a team.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, board members approved a request from the girls athletic department to hold their annual sports banquet at 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 16. The annual spring banquet for the boys athletic department also was approved for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 22.

The resignation of Eleanor Bargiel, a cook for the district for 21 years, also was accepted by the board. Mrs. Bargiel will retire at the end of this school year and will receive a certificate for her service.

Allege possession, obstructing officer

While talking with a driver on 24th Street, between Washington Avenue and Iowa Street, last week, an officer was approached by Timothy W. Jett, 21, of 2017 Washington Ave., who started asking questions and allegedly told the policeman that he had no right to stop the motorist. He also demanded to speak to the officer's superior, reports said.

Jett reportedly was told twice to go back to the sidewalk and then was arrested when he refused and was charged with obstructing a police officer.

At the booking window, a clear plastic bag containing a green leafy substance and a second plastic bag holding a burned cigarette allegedly were found in his possession.

Jett also was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and was released after posting a $104 cash bond to appear for a hearing.

GC man charged DUI in 3-injury crash

Three persons were injured in a three-car crash just south of the Cambridge overpass (Route 203), at 5:30 a.m. Saturday.

Lori E. Davis, 20, of 2232 Washington Ave., was driving north on Route 203 at Harrison Street in Madison, when her auto became disabled. James Lemansky of

Car rolls ahead, pins man to wall

Ronald Ochso, 40, of 125 Ashbrook St., Venice, was injured during the weekend when a car he was working on rolled forward, pinning him against a wall.

When Venice Patrolman Daniel McKinney arrived at the home, Ochso was lying on the ground near the rear door with blood spurting from the leg.

The injured man had used his own belt to stem the flow and the makeshift tourniquet was secured somewhat and pressure was applied by the officer until the Venice Fire Department emergency truck arrived and fire personnel administered further aid.

While waiting for the ambulance to take him to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Ochso told the officer that he was working on the car and asked his wife, Dee, to drive it up on ramps. When the car went up the ramps, the vehicle shot forward and pinned him against the wall, he said. He was admitted to the medical center and was listed in stable condition this week.

Amsted returns to profitability

Amsted Industries Inc. announced today that net income for the six months ended March 31, 1984, was $2.1 million, or 19 cents per share, up $4.4 million from the net loss of $6.3 million, or 58 cents per share, last year.

Sales in the six months were $276.2 million, up $52.5 million, or 23 percent, from the comparable period a year ago. The firm owns the American Steel Foundries plant here.

Robert H. Wellington, Amsted president, said the improvement in results is primarily due to increased volume in all product segments and to operating efficiencies.

The return to profitability occurred in the second quarter with net income of $2.4 million, or 22 cents per share. This compares to a loss of $3 million, or 27 cents per share, in the quarter ended March 31, 1983. Sales were $149.9 million, up $32.2 million or 34 percent, over the year-ago quarter.

In the six months, railroad product sales were $89.4 million, up $22.7 million or 34 percent, due to recent increased demand for components for both repair requirements and new freight cars.

Construction and building products sales of $95.6 million were up $9.9 million or 12 percent. Sales of ductile iron pressure pipe to serve the needs of a stronger housing industry generated most of the increase.

General industrial products sales were $91.2 million, up $19.9 million or 28 percent, due to increased shipments of mechanical power transmission components.

For the remainder of the year, Wellington said, the outlook is for improved results compared to the first half of fiscal 1984 and the last six months of fiscal 1983.

A continued good level of housing starts and a strong general economy are anticipated.

The recent upturn in new freight car construction and increased maintenance requirements by the railroads are other positive factors. The increased backlog is also an encouraging indicator influencing the outlook for the second half of 1984, he said.

Orders for railroad products totaled $2 million a year ago, $6 million a half-year ago and $23 million on March 31, 1984.

Gordon R. Lohman and Warren W. Rasmussen, both Amsted vice presidents, were elected directors of the company.

They fill vacancies created by the retirements of Goff Smith, former chairman and a director since 1961, and Lester T. Moate, who retired as Amsted executive vice president April 1 and had served as a director since 1961.

A vacancy created by the resignation of J. Thomas Schanck, chairman of Signode Industries, has not been filled.

Council members pass joint purchase pact

Members of the Granite City Council voted last week to approve, an ordinance restricting parking in the 2900 block of Madison Avenue and a resolution entering the city into a joint purchasing program with the Granite City School District.

The parking ordinance, makes it illegal for persons to park for a period of two consecutive hours on the northwest side of Madison Avenue, in the 2900 block. The restriction is from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The resolution enters the city into a joint purchasing agreement with the school district so that both the city and the school district will have improved purchasing power. The two bodies will be able to realize this through volume purchases on some materials.

HOW TO PAINT A DC-3. The plane is shown being painted in preparation for its airlift to Midcoast Aviation's paint shop staff. In the foreground, GCC student Larry Mayes of Granite City makes a wing walk. The GCC logo and a horizontal stripe now appear in blue on the white body of the plane. For last week's airlift from Bi-State Parks Airport, Cahokia, a giant helicopter lifted the plane and flew along the Mississippi River, with bridges along the route closing as the copter and plane flew over. Highways and residential areas were avoided as a safety measure.

Teamwork aided big airlift

When the National Guard airlifted a DC-3 for Granite City Center of Belleville Area College last week, it was difficult to tell the plane was 40 years old.

Fresh coats of blue and white paint gave the plane a sleek appearance despite intermittent rain that threatened to cancel the lift of the DC-3 and a F-4 fighter.

The two planes, used by students in the college's aviation maintenance program, were moved from Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia to Granite City Center. The program itself moved from Cahokia to GCC last fall, but the aircraft stayed behind awaiting airlift by the Kansas National Guard's 137th Transportation Company.

The DC-3 was prepared for the lift by GCC students with the assistance of Midcoast Aviation, Inc. Midcoast Vice President for Completion Operations Richard Draxen offered the help of the company's paint shop.

Paint shop supervisor Bob Aldridge and his three-man crew of Len Kohr, Tony Bergman and Ron Pedrotti donated more than three days of work to direct painting of the plane.

The GCC logo was accented by a horizontal blue stripe that was clearly visible as the plane was lifted from the airport and carried by the Army's CH-54 Skycrane helicopter along the Mississippi River.

Mid Coast provided hangar space for painting as well as many supplies at cost, said GCC aviation maintenance instructor Paul Greenwood. Greenwood and fellow instructor Mike Marcum supervised the students. All 60 students enrolled in the program participated in the project, and many of them were on hand to see the lift.

Midcoast's assistance is part of a continuing support relationship between the company and the college. Representatives of the aviation company serve on the aviation maintenance advisory committee, which reviews the college program and offers advice on how to keep it in step with current trends in the industry.

"Their help was great," Greenwood said. "They really treated us well."

A number of BAC aviation maintenance graduates are employed by Midcoast, he added.

The college acquired the government surplus DC-3 about four years ago. It had most recently been used in a U.S. Department of Agriculture screw-worm eradication project in the Southwest. It was probably used as a military cargo plane before that, Greenwood related.

"The DC-3 is an important part of the GCC Program," Greenwood said. "It is used as a training craft to teach students to work with twin-engine run-ups, propellers, rigging of central surfaces, hydraulics, landing gear, electrical systems, instruments and line maintenance."

The plane's new home is inside the aviation compound on the northeast side of Granite City Center, the former North High. The F-4, also airlifted last week, will be housed in the same area. It also is used for training purposes.

The National Guard unit that lifted the plane is under the direction of Maj. Dennis Parry and is based in Topeka, Kan.

Dr. Pak Tong Mak is coordinator for the aviation maintenance program, one of three aviation programs offered by Belleville Area College.

Also headquartered at GCC is the college's aviation electronics program. Charles Linberg is coordinator.

The pilot training program is housed in hangar two at Bi-State Parks Airport, Cahokia. It is coordinated by Clarence Hall.

GC unemployment climbs to 14.6 percent in March

"Inclement weather conditions which delayed an anticipated seasonal upturn" were blamed for an increase in unemployment throughout the area in March, according to the latest unemployment figures released Monday by the Bureau of Employment Security.

Granite City's unemployment rate rose from 14.1 percent in February's final figures to 14.6 percent in March's preliminary figures. Madison County also experienced an increase in unemployment, from 11.8 percent to 12.3 percent in March, according to the statistics. Statewide, unemployment rose from 10.1 percent to 10.6 percent in March.

The weather slowed hiring in construction and other outdoor jobs, according to Velda Gerstenecker of the Research and Analysis Division in Belleville.

The unemployed counted in the survey include only those currently on the unemployment rolls and do not include those whose unemployment benefits have run out or those who have returned to school or moved out of the area for a lack of work.

The Granite City workforce (employed and unemployed) rose from 19,750 persons in February to 19,875 in March, while the number unemployed rose from 2,775 to 2,900.

Calhoun County has the highest unemployment percentage of the seven counties in the statistical area with 28.4 percent unemployed. It was followed by Jersey County at 16.7 percent, Bond County at 14.4 percent and Clinton County at 14.0 percent. Trailing Madison County's 12.3 percent were Monroe County at 12.1 percent and St. Clair County with 12.0 percent.

Among the large cities in the area, Belleville had the highest unemployment rate at 18.2 percent, followed by Granite City at 14.6 percent, Alton at 13.6 percent and East St. Louis with 11.4 percent on the unemployment rolls. The averages for the seven county area were 11.7 percent unemployed in February and 12.2 percent in March.

Statewide, the work force increased from 5,549,000 to 5,569,000, while the number on the unemployment rolls rose from 559,000 to 592,000, the figures show.

Driver cited for DUI after mishap

Raymond Valencia, 42, of 1693 Market St., Madison, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after his 1967 pickup truck allegedly struck another vehicle at 12:40 a.m. Sunday in the 1400 block of 20th Street.

Witnesses told police that Valencia began driving from a parking place on the south curb of 20th Street, heading east, and crossed into the westbound lane.

At that point, it was alleged, Valencia hit the 1973 pickup of Leroy Burton, 2608 Hodges Ave., which was parked at the curb on the north side of the roadway.

Valencia declined to give a description of what caused the mishap, reports noted. At police headquarters, he became belligerent and refused to submit to a breath test, it was alleged. He was charged with DUI.

Concentrated Traffic Enforcement resumed

After an absence of six months, the Concentrated Traffic Enforcement Program has resumed. Troopers will be riding patrol in areas where statistics indicate a high accident rate.

The project will utilize four teams made up of 32 off-duty troopers rehired at their regular rate of pay with federal highway funds administered by the Illinois Department of Transportation. Emphasis will be placed upon enforcing moving hazardous violations occurring in these identified areas which have been determined to be factors that cause accidents.

Captain Bobby L. Henry Sr., commander of District 11 at Collinsville, advises the target areas in Madison and St. Clair Counties are: Interstate 270 from the Missouri-

Illinois line to Route 159, on Route 159 from Route 143 to Route 140, from East Alton to Edwardsville on Route 143, from Route 111 to Holiday Shores on Route 140, from Route 140 to 143 on Route 111, on I-64 from East St. Louis to Route 4, on Route 4 between I-64 and Old U.S. 50, and on Old U.S. 50 from Route 40 to East St. Louis.

The goal of a Concentrated Traffic Enforcement Program (CTEP) is to reduce accidents and their resultant deaths, injuries and property losses. The result of the deployment of personnel during specific times at the aforementioned locations should cause motorists to believe that traffic officers are everywhere and if they violate the law they will be caught, Capt. Henry said.

WE'RE CELEBRATING
OUR 27th YEAR...

America's Oldest Lawn Spray Company...

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass types (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions-chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control webworms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN THAT NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as grass is growing and actually slows down its feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN you're not getting your money's worth.

... THE GREEN LAWS PLAN provides five sprays — early Spring, late Spring, Summer, late Summer, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain, spurge ... Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control in the Spring and insecticide applications in the Summer.

OUR PLAN INCLUDES GRUB CONTROL WITH OFTANOL, THE ONLY CHEMICAL THAT REALLY CONTROLS GRUB.

Red Bud Center drawings completed

Architects for the Red Bud Center of Belleville Area College have completed drawings for the energy-efficient building.

The one-story brick building will appear to emerge from the surrounding terrain, which will be sculpted around the windows in a contemporary, energy-saving design.

THERE WILL be entrances on two sides of the 12,000-square-foot building planned for 10 acres adjacent to Red Bud High School and the St. Clement's Hospital on Fourth Street. Fourth Street will be extended to pass the front entrance; a side entrance will lead directly to a 200-car parking lot.

High technology programs, including data processing and word processing, will be highlighted at Red Bud Center (RBC). Two laboratories and study areas have been designed with that in mind. They will be equipped with microcomputers and word-processing stations. Students at the center will have direct access to the college's mainframe computer via an electronic hookup between Red Bud and the Belleville campus.

Business courses, including accounting and secretarial science, will be also an important part of the academic program at RBC.

THE BUILDING will include six classrooms and a chemistry/biology laboratory in addition to the computer laboratories. There will be a library and a commons area, which will include limited food service. Classrooms will include four designed for lecture classes for 30 to 35 students and two for smaller classes, such as math and English, which will have 20 to 25 students.

Red Bud Center will allow students in the southern portion of the BAC district to attend college without having to drive to Belleville. It will bring classes closer to their homes and save the time and expense of the longer commuter.

STUDENTS majoring in business programs will find many of their courses available at the center, while those planning to transfer to four-year colleges or universities will be able to complete many of their general education requirements at RBC.

When at full capacity, the center will serve an estimated 1,500 students. The college will rent the building for $35,000 a year.

Plans for the building were prepared by FGM Inc., Architects, Planners and Engineers of Belleville and Mount Vernon. Bids for construction of the center are currently being sought.

THE GROUND BREAKING will be scheduled when the bids are opened later this spring. Classes are set to begin in January 1985.

Red Bud Center is possible because of the support of the community of Red Bud and local investors who have pledged close to $1 million for the project. They have made $750,000 available for construction of the building and $250,000 for improvement of the site including extension of the road, utilities and parking.

The center will serve residents of Red Bud, Sparta, Chester, Steelville, Waterloo, Ellis Grove, Coulterville, Columbia and other Randolph, Monroe and Washington county communities.

Art education workshops are offered

Two art education workshops, one directed to early childhood, the other focusing on older adults, are being offered through Summer University at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"ART 450: An Art Education Workshop in Early Childhood Education," will be given by Joseph A. Weber, professor of art education in the department of art and design. It will run June 18-29, meeting from 1 to 4 p.m., carrying three hours of credit.

"ART 452: Art Education for Older Adults," is a two-week evening workshop, also taught by Weber, July 9-20 from 6 to 9 p.m. It also provides three hours of credit.

The workshops are elements in a larger program called "New Horizons in Art Education and Art Therapy." This program emphasizes educational approaches through art in the field of early childhood, mental health, corrections, and gerontology.

The early childhood workshop looks at the young learner; it is intended for kindergarten teachers, directors and teachers in day facilities and nursery schools, Head Start personnel, instructional aides and parents. The meaning and uses of the visual arts in the education of the very young child will be discussed in terms of basic questions about the nature and learning function of art in the classroom.

THE EVENING sessions on art education for older adults are intended for activity directors in nursing homes and/or care facilities, directors and administrators of senior citizen centers, specialists in gerontology, art teachers and art therapists—in short, anyone working with older adults.

According to Weber, participants in both workshops should leave with new ideas, concepts, and suggested art activities for their specific clients or students.

Interested persons should call 1-692-3183 for information about registration. Weber said preregistration is necessary and forms may be obtained from the department of art and design, Box 64, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

REGISTRATION periods are open from April 30 through May 5, May 7 through May 11, and June 11 through June 17. These workshops may be taken under the Educard plan.

THE TISSUE ISSUE: Hundreds of rolls of toilet paper were dumped on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at noon Tuesday as a St. Louis radio station K5-94 made good its promise to solicit issues for students at SIUC at Carbondale. Adjusting the rotor of his helicopter after landing with a load of paper is Allen Barklage, pilot and traffic reporter. Soon after, two vehicles loaded with more than 1,000 rolls of toilet tissue arrived. Dormitory students at SIUC have complained to the news media that they did not have enough toilet paper to finish the school year. However, summer students apparently are the ones who will benefit, because the spring semester ended last week. (SIUE Photo) delegation that, although a stop order had been issued on the site, that workmen are continuing to work there. "I do not want one man working at that location until this problem is resolved. I have problems with a contractor now and I do not intend to have any more problems with this project. Either we start on the right foot now, or it will not continue."

APPARENTLY the disagreement came about when construction of the single-family dwellings continued without the developer providing necessary fees and bonding or securing building permits required by the village board.

A concentrated effort is underway to upgrade the building codes in Pontoon Beach and, in this respect, the trustees are insisting that all building be in compliance with Village Ordinance, Chapter 24, that lists guidelines for the general contractor and surveyor of real estate plans.

A final plan for the subdivision, located on Highway 111 north of the First Church of the Nazarene, in the 4700 block of the highway, was presented at the meeting and was granted approval by the board members.

VILLAGE CLERK Mary Warren read a letter from the new general manager of South-Western Cable, Ltd., who requested a audience with the board members at its May 22 meeting.

She also read a communication from Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, engineering firm, in conjunction with paving of the parking lot at the senior citizens' building, requesting board members sign a contract for the project. The work was originally set for May 1 and, because of the wet weather, has been postponed until the lot dries. The next target date for the work to be completed is June 13.

A petition for annexation of real estate property in Sunnyside subdivision, located along Highway 111 and Breckenridge Lane, (specific address 6257 Reville Lane) owned by VFW Post and requested by Commander Wayne Short was approved by the board with the stipulation the organization abide by the zoning ordinance 340 as a community business (B-1), and other ordinances of the village.

The trustees also agreed to a request from a group wishing to form a roadblock on Pontoon Road and Breckenridge Lane Saturday to collect monies for Cystic Fibrosis. Their approval was given only if the Meet tonight on tax interest

Representatives of between 150 and 200 Madison County governmental bodies are expected to assemble at 7:15 tonight in SIUE Peck Building Room 1402.

Goal will be to make plans leading to a "reasonable solution" of the scheduled county governmental repayment to taxing entities of interest accrued on real estate tax collections since 1976.

Negotiations with county officials have been proposed by a portion of the group that will assemble Thursday; others oppose any compromise settlement.

A court ruling requires the interest distribution. However, the Illinois Supreme Court has agreed to review the issue, initially declining to accept counties' appeal of an appellate ruling. A decision by the high court may be announced this fall.

Local-level taxing agencies are opposing Senate Bill 1478, which is being backed by many of the counties. It would require that tax levies be lowered by the amount of interest repayments, or that repayments be returned to counties to help them pay county jail maintenance costs.

Townships and others which are against the legislation say that many of them cannot afford to lower their rates—and that to do so might set a legal precedent requiring lower rates in later years when no additional repayments would be received.

Interest was earned during periods between actual collection of taxes and their distribution by county collectors to schools, cities, townships, parks and other taxing agencies.

Due to the court action, most counties now are planning faster distribution of real estate taxes this summer. But the question of what to do about sharing the past seven or eight years' interest remains to be decided.

group will provide liability insurance before the date of the fund-raising project.

REA VOICED his concern that having a roadblock where there is no stop sign is a dangerous situation to contribute. "I think we should discuss this for future requests, I do not have anything against allowing these projects to continue, but I must say the traffic danger must be considered," he explained.

President Bennett suggested the request of Rea be sent to committee for discussion and a recommendation be brought before the board at its next meeting.

In a similar situation, Bob Ables noted a carnival company has asked for a seven-day carnival in Pontoon Beach and has paid the required $25 licenses fee per day for that time, then returned for a five-day extension and paid an additional $25-per-day fee for the extra time. "In my opinion, with so many rain days, the company could not really make much money and I think the board should consider this problem."

ABLE AND REA agreed that the situation be reviewed and possibly a company coming into the area could be assessed a daily fee with a maximum cost per visit. As it is stated now, the license fee is more than any other business in the village pays to operate.

The president directed this suggestion to be sent to committee for a final recommendation to be submitted at the next meeting on May 22.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The term "cohabitation" has been defined as living together as husband and wife without benefit of marriage. This term has become important under Illinois law for two reasons. As noted last week, if a former spouse receives alimony and cohabits with another person on a continuing basis, the Court can terminate the award. Secondly, if a custodial parent cohabits with a member of the opposite sex without benefit of marriage, this can be a basis for a change of custody to the other parent.

One may ask why the Illinois legislature and the Courts have in effect punished individuals who cohabit by cutting off their maintenance or taking away custody of their children. The Courts have justified these actions by pointing out that the relevant standard of conduct for individuals is found in the Criminal Code of 1961. This law provides that "any person who cohabits or has sexual intercourse with another not his spouse commits fornication if the behavior is open and notorious." This is a Class B misdemeanor under Illinois law, and many Judges have reasoned that since the Legislature chose to make these actions a crime, they certainly should not be sanctioned in the area of Family Law.

In a recent case, the Illinois Supreme Court reached a decision which shocked the nation. In this situation, the mother divorced the father in 1978, and she received custody of their three daughters, ages 12, 10 and 7. Five months after the divorce, the mother informed the father that she planned to have her boyfriend move in with her and the children. The father objected, but nevertheless she proceeded to live with him.

The father filed a petition to modify custody based on her cohabitation. At the hearing, the mother testified that she did not want to remarry at this time because it was too soon after the divorce. The mother further noted that her children had developed a very close relationship to her boyfriend during the period of time he had lived there. The father, on the other hand, testified that he thought her living arrangement was not a proper one to raise three young girls.

The Illinois Supreme Court found that a change of custody was proper in this situation. They noted that her conduct, by example, could serve as a signal to the children that cohabitation was permissible. The Court felt this may encourage the children to engage in similar activity in the future.

Girls' sectional track meets begin on Friday

BY CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

The girls' track teams of Granite City High and Madison High will be miles away Friday, but both squads will be facing similar opponents — stiff sectional competition.

In the large school meet, Granite City will travel to Belleville West to compete in one of 14 statewide Class AA Sectionals. In small schools competition, Madison will be at Gillespie for one of 16 Class A Sectionals in the state.

One of the two ways that Granite City and Madison girls can qualify for the state meet is to be held May 18 and 19 at Charleston. To finish first or second in their sectionals, such competition is tough, with 17 teams in the Belleville West meet and 21 teams in the Gillespie meet.

THE SECOND way for top individuals to qualify — those in-don't finish first or second — is to equal or surpass qualifying standards set by the Illinois High School Association.

Granite City coach Pete Robinson says four girls have chances of advancing to state competition, along with an outside possibility of a relay team or two.

"We're a young team, so realistically we won't be qualifying that many members," said Robinson. "But if we do well in the areas where we're strong, I'll be very pleased."

Discus thrower Debbie Brandt is Granite City's top prospect. The junior finished 14th in the state competition last year.

CLOSE behind is 1600-meter runner Lora Wiser, a sophomore who finished 14th this past season in the state cross country meet.

Robinson said outside chances of advancement are held by Lisa Wiser in the 400-meter event and Terri Selph in the discus.

"Terri has been coming on strong in the discus lately," said Robinson. "She threw 98 feet in her last meet. The state qualifying mark is 115 feet, so she has an outside shot."

Lisa Wiser, meanwhile, has had injury problems near the end of the season. Robinson said the multi-talented sophomore, who also competes in several relays and the long jump, has been bothered by a strained muscle near her knee. He says her best shot at qualifying is likely in the 400-meter event.

"We're going to keep her fresh for that," said Robinson. "She won't be in any relays before that run and I'm not too sure she'll be in the long jump. It's a lot easier to get injured landing in that sand than by running."

Robinson also hopes for a good time out of the 1600-meter relay team, along with a possibility for advancement in the 400- or 800-meter sprint relays.

For Madison, ReGina Banks holds the highest potential for state qualification in the 100- and 200-meter hurdles. The senior finished fourth in the state last year in the 100-meter hurdles.

The Madison relay teams also appear strong enough to qualify for the state finals.

The Class AA Sectional in Belleville gets underway Friday at 3 p.m. while the Class A Sectional in Gillespie will begin immediately after the scratch meeting which begins at 3:30 p.m.

Warrior hurlers cliprated Redbirds, 10-8

BY ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

GODFREY — Granite City High School varsity baseball coach Bob Stegemeyer was beaming Wednesday night after his team beat Alton here at Lewis and Clark Community College Field.

He had every reason to be. Not only did the Warriors better the Redbirds 10-8, but they accomplished three things in the process.

The Warriors, behind fine starting pitching by senior right-hander Sam Tate (4-3) and sophomore reliever Eric Gray, continued to keep the errors few and far between, while simultaneously forcing Alton to make more than their fair share. Granite City committed just two of the miscues, while Alton blundered its way to 10 errors.

BUT THAT wasn't all. In addition to fine pitching and fewer errors, the Warriors were the best they've been this year at the plate and on the basepaths. In all, Granite City scattered 13 hits for 10 runs while they kept the Redbirds bay.

Although the Redbirds outthrew the Warriors by two, it was clearly the Warriors' combined aggressiveness at the plate and on the basepaths which made the biggest difference in the ball game and lifted them to their sixth victory in their last eight games. It was also the third time this season the Warriors have soundly beaten an area rated team. The Redbirds, now 8-4, were rated fifth last week in the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"I'M PLEASED with our offense and base running," Stegemeyer said after the game. "We executed perfectly, had good bat control, and ran the bases aggressively."

Indeed they did. On at least three occasions the Warriors gambled on run and hit situations and each time came up winners. In addition to the run and hit situations, the Warriors also utilized the sacrifice four times in the game to perfection. Each sacrifice, whether it be an RBI fly to the outfield or a runner-advancing bunt, the Warriors' execution was flawless.

Warrior Soccer Coach

Baker declines EIU, ISU positions

BY ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Gene Baker, Granite City High School South's highly successful soccer coach and now head soccer coach of Granite City High School, has turned down two college NCAA Division I coaching jobs to remain the Warriors' coach, the Press-Record learned.

Baker, who in the past has been offered such college soccer coaching jobs as Cleveland State as well as being a top candidate for the St. Louis University coaching job last year, has most recently turned down offers from Eastern Illinois University in Charleston and Illinois State University in Bloomington.

BAKER, the 11-year coach of the Warriors, explained that he turned down the coaching offers for a couple of reasons. "Basically, there are two reasons why I did not accept the positions," Baker said Wednesday. "First, I feel a commitment to our program here. We've accomplished a lot and I think there's still that we can achieve."

"Also, there are personal reasons — family reasons — why I turned the positions down," Baker said. Baker, who chose not to elaborate on his personal reasons, has children who are attending schools in the Hazelwood Mo. school district. Two years ago when the position at Cleveland State was offered to him, Baker also gave personal reasons for not accepting that position. "Maybe another time," he was quoted as saying at the time.

THE ILLINOIS State University coaching position was vacated when Bodo Fritzen stepped down after last season. ISU officials, who had selected Baker as their first choice to fill the vacancy, have since named Tim Carter, Duke University's assistant coach last year, to fill the position.

The coaching position at Eastern, Baker admits, is the type of college program he would like to have if he were coaching somewhere other than at Granite City.

"Let's face it. There aren't a lot of better soccer coaching positions than what I've already got here at Granite City," Baker said. "The kids are dedicated and we've got community support. Things don't get much better than that," Baker said.

During his 11 years as a high school soccer coach in Granite City, Baker has led six teams to state championships, most recently in 1982. Along the way, he has amassed more than 300 career victories, more than 200 as coach of the Warriors and Coach-of-the-Year by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

for an RBI single to right field, scoring Plata. The Redbirds picked up their final run of the game when Jeff Wright singled in Freeman.

AFTER THE game Stegemeyer called the Warriors' win "a true team victory."

"Everyone contributed," Stegemeyer said. "Our guys off the bench also came through and produced. There's been a lot of talk of how we want them to play. It seems now they understand what kind of baseball we want to play. Aggressive."

Stegemeyer graciously spread praise for the victory throughout the team, mentioning fine offensive efforts by Adams, Booker, Thurman, Cole, Cathey, Burgess, Davis and Ehlers. Defensively, he praised sophomores Bill Moore and Dennis Gaudreault, and pitchers Tate and Gray.

"IF ANYTHING, this victory tonight proves we can play with the best of them," Stegemeyer said.

The loss drops Alton's record to 9-4 of the season, while Granite City, whose record was 2-10 just two weeks ago, stands at 8-12.

The Warriors have the opportunity to improve that record even more as they host Wood River today at 4 p.m. at Varsity Field. Sophomore Mark Bowen is slated to see action in the first game while Allen Zentgraf will pitch the second game.

On Monday, May 14, the Warriors will host Gateway East Conference rival Cahokia for a double-header beginning at 4 p.m. Due to earlier rainouts, both games will count towards conference records.

Local Stars

Gibson, Levin committed to GCC

BY ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Granite City Center's soccer coach, Larry Petri, continues to dig into the well of local talent as he announced the recruitment of two fine, local soccer standouts.

Petri, in his second year as the Stars' coach, announced Monday that former Granite City High School South kicker Jim Gibson and former Granite City North standout Brian Levin have committed to the Stars' camp this fall.

Gibson and Levin, both 1983 graduates of their respective schools, increase the number of local athletes on Petri's squad to five for the coming season. The two will join other former Granite City high school graduates Benny Nolan, Tim Dean and Phil Popmarkoff.

All sophomores, the five will be seeking to improve upon the Stars' 12-8 record.

GIBSON, 19, comes to the GCC forces from St. Francis College in Fort Wayne, Ind., where he says he was disillusioned with the soccer program there.

A member of Granite City South's 1982 state championship team, Gibson scored one goal and managed three assists from his fullback's position while at St. Francis.

In addition to that state championship team, he was also a member of the Mexican Honorary Commission-Mendoza Sports team which last summer won the Illinois McGuire Cup state championship and went on to become runner-up in the Midwest Regional.

"I'M GLAD to be back in the area, playing before my friends and family," Gibson said. "I know Larry and what kind of coach he is from playing with him in the summer league." Gibson said he's really looking forward to this season."

graduation, Petri anticipates using the 19-year-old Gibson in the backfield, where he is most familiar. For Levin, also 19, coming to the GCC soccer program is the end of a search for satisfaction. Satisfaction that he, like Gibson, did not find at a four-year college.

A CENTER midfielder, Levin comes to GCC from Western Illinois University.

"I didn't like the soccer program too much," Levin said of WIU. "Not only did I not get to play much, but I just didn't feel like I fit in."

Levin, who scored one goal and one assist for the Leathernecks last year, scored nine goals with an equal amount of assists his senior year at Granite City North.

"Basically, it (playing for GCC) will be a lot nicer living at home, being close to my friends and family," Levin said. "They're what means the most to me. Coming to GCC also means they'll be able to see more of my games."

LEVIN, who is majoring in industrial electronics, credits his father, Roger, as the major contributing factor to his success on the soccer field. And, as for his relationship with Petri, Levin anticipates smooth sailing.

"We both played high school soccer under the same coach, Bob Kehoe, so that should help. Since we both played for Coach Kehoe I think our soccer philosophies are similar."

"It will be different playing college soccer at the same place I went to high school, though. The surroundings will be the same, but most of the faces will be different."

Levin's goal this year? "Just one," he said. "We've got to get past Lewis and Clark."

The L&C Bucks, the Stars' perennial rival, finished third in the nation last year and second the year before.

Levin is the son of Roger and Judith Levin of 5565 Ivy in Granite City.

Gibson, business administration major, is the son of Russell and Jane Gibson of 2904 Dogwood Drive in Granite City.

Signs Letter Of Intent

Robertson to attend Illinois State

BY CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

NORMAL — Granite City High School distance runner Jim Robertson has signed a national letter of intent to attend Illinois State University.

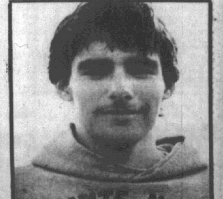

Illinois State men's track coach John Coughlan made the announcement recently, adding that Robertson is the sixth track athlete to sign this spring.

AS GRANITE CITY's top runner this spring in the mile and two-mile, Robertson also was an all-state performer in the state cross country meet this fall. He finished 24th overall in the Class AA competition.

His best times this season in the two mile is 9:31 and 4:29 in the mile.

In addition to Illinois State, Robertson said he had been recruited by Eastern Illinois University, Oklahoma University and Wichita State University. He said his decision to sign with Illinois State was an easy one.

Robertson, who will be majoring in business, said he is looking forward to the college competition at Illinois State. He noted that the team has a good reputation, saying they former in the state cross country fastest world time in the distance medley.

Inadequate security may be Soviets problem

Nothing is sacred anymore. What little chance the Olympics ever had of becoming something truly for the athletes following the United States' 1980 boycott was dashed Tuesday when the Soviet Union announced it would not send its athletes to the 1984 Games in Los Angeles. Since then, as expected, other Soviet bloc countries have announced that they will not attend the Games.

If ever there was even the slightest possibility of nations putting politics on the shelf during the Olympics, there are no more.

In few words, two successive boycotts make for a dismal Olympic future.

Sure, the United States and the Soviet Union are not the only two countries to use the Olympic Games for political purposes, and they probably won't be the last. Just look back as far as 1932 and Adolf Hitler. But even then, it didn't lead to an Olympic boycott.

And back then, the United States had an answer for Hitler has his "showcase Olympics." It was Jesse Owens. Now, however, Owens is gone, and similarly there may not be an answer for the 1984 Games.

But since pure, non-political sports competition can

Sports on the Run

By Al Gerstenecker

Apparently be no more — perhaps there never was — the only thing that can be done is to push on.

Continue the Games without Russians!

At this point, we shouldn't ask them a second time. No pleading. No begging. It's been said before that an Olympic boycott does nothing but disillusion and cheat that boycotting countries' athletes.

If the Soviets choose not to participate they shouldn't. The Olympic Games will continue in 1984. The Olympic Torch was both lit and extinguished in Moscow in 1980 without the United States' participation and so will it in Los Angeles this year without the Soviets.

But the true sad thing which results from all this is the unquestionable unrest which surrounds the Olympic Games. In addition to the boycotts, there are too many controversial issues that are left unaddressed. Such as what constitutes an amateur athlete?

If that can't be agreed upon, perhaps the Olympics should encompass a much grander scope. Such as include all the best athletes in the world regardless of professional or amateur standing.

The best athletes. Plain and simple.

Some say that would lead to American professional athletes' domination. By definition, a professional is someone who participates for gain in any activity often engaged in by amateurs.

In my opinion, anyone to enter the Olympics is hoping to gain something from their participation — a medal, an endorsement worth millions of dollars or a pat on the back from good ol' Chernenko himself. Each equally as gratifying. I'm sure, depending on your nationality.

But, I'm getting away from the specific topic of this column.

Don't you love the reason the Russians gave for their decision not to attend the Games: Inadequate security.

I've never heard anything so absurd. With every third person in LA being a cop or an undercover FBI agent, even the pick pockets are going to be paranoid!

Seriously, the only security inadequacy in Los Angeles this summer during the Olympics should be the Soviets decide to attend and by their own. Put in another way, one reason the Soviets may be boycotting the Los Angeles Games are to avoid any embarrassment they may experience should a handful of their athletes happen to wander off their leashes and find their way to political asylum.

Far fetched? Perhaps.

But outside of the inadequate security angle what else did the Soviets have? The United States hasn't invaded Afghanistan. We haven't shot down a commercial airliner.

Instead, they seek to draw attention to what they see as crime-ridden Southern California, fearing for their athletes.

Southern California, what a hell hole. Sand, beaches, palm trees, and on the average the temperature is 75 degrees — too hot for Siberian parkas and dog sleds.

The only sure thing I can say for the Russians this summer when I'm watching the Olympics on television is see what you missed and... pass the pina colodas.

I sure won't miss you.

Against MELH, Assumption Trojan hurlers big winners, losers

By CHARLIE SKAER

MADISON — The Madison Trojans' baseball season took an upward turn Tuesday with a 3-2 win over Metro-East Lutheran.

But just as quickly the team took a deep plunge back to the cellar the following afternoon with an embarrassing 25-2 loss against Assumption.

The defeat put the team at 3-13 for the season, a disappointment for coach Ron Crader, who has coached the team for three years prior to taking over the top position last year. Crader has yet to see a winning Madison ball club. His goal of having a .500 season this year has long since faded.

"THIS IS the best team I've had here in five years," said Crader after Wednesday's loss. "It makes me think I can't judge skill any more."

So what's the problem with his skilled players?

"Attitude," he said simply, preferring not to be quoted further. "It's just attitude."

Explaining how a Madison ball club can win by the score and then turn around and lose by 23 runs the next day, Crader said the critical problem is the amount of defensive mistakes.

"It's errors, plain and simple," he said.

The Trojans committed 15 errors Wednesday, including six by sophomore shortstop Darnell Marshall. In the first three innings, the Trojans had just 13 hits.

MADISON, meanwhile, couldn't muster up an offensive attack. Outfielder Freddie Smith scored in the first thanks to a wild pitch by Assumption hurler Lawrence Moore. But Moore dominated the game, striking out 10 of the 18 batters he faced in the five-inning ball game. Moore gave up just three hits and one walk.

The Pioneers decided not to make the same mistakes Tuesday as they did April 3, when they found themselves down 4-0 against Assumption and had to come from behind to win 14-4.

Pitcher Nathan Young got the first two batters out in the first before being tagged with a double down the third-base line off the bat of pitcher Moore. Sophomore Jimmy Collins then knocked a double past first baseman John Jackson to drive in the first run of the game. Assumption added two more runs thanks to a couple of errors by Madison before Young struck out leftfielder Shawn Gaines.

ALTHOUGH Madison narrowed the margin to 3-1, Assumption added five more in the second, three in the third, four in the fourth and a whopping 10 in the fifth.

Madison's second run of the day was scored by Lamont Johnson, who crossed the plate in the fifth after a second wild pitch by Moore.

The Trojans final game of the regular season will be Saturday 10 a.m. at Venice's Lee Park.

Illini signs Blab

CHAMPAIGN — Olaf Blab, a 7-foot West German exchange student and brother of Indiana University center Uwe Blab, has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at the University of Illinois next fall.

Olaf Blab (pronounced O-laf BLOP) played high school basketball at Charleston (Ill.) High School last winter and averaged 13.9 points, 7.5 rebounds and five blocked shots a game. Charleston, coached by Steve Simmons, was 20-8 last year and was eliminated from the Illinois High School Association state tournament by Taylorville, 55-44 in the Benton Sectional. Taylorville's center is Jens Kujawa, a 7-foot West German and Illini signee, too.

"We're quite excited about Olaf's decision," said Illinois Coach Lou Henson. "We feel he will continue to improve. He is a good athlete and has good hands. He just needs some experience and strength."

Blab increased his weight from 205 pounds to 225 last season. Blab is the fourth player to sign with the Illini. Besides Kujawa, the Illini signed a pair of all-state, 6-foot-4 guards — Glynn Blackwell of Highland Park, Mich., and Scott Haffner of Noblesville, Ind.

May 14th Prairie State Games registration

URBANA — Governor James R. Thompson called on amateur athletes from all over Illinois — men and women, boys and girls — to compete in Illinois' own Olympics this summer, the Prairie State Games.

Speaking at the site of the finals of the Prairie State Games at the University of Illinois, the Governor stressed that amateur athletes have until May 14 to submit their application along with $10 registration fees to be eligible for the competition.

Locally many athletes are expected to participate in soccer competition. To help expedite registration, soccer enthusiasts Ruben Mendoza has soccer registration forms. They may be picked up at his sporting goods store located at Soccer For Fun on Illinois Route 111.

"This is a great opportunity for young and old alike to compete with their peers in athletic events in 14 categories," the Governor said. "And through the elimination process that will be held in eight regions throughout the state beginning May 19 and concluding July 1, we will bring the best in Illinois to Urbana for the finals July 18 through July 22."

All applicants will receive a Prairie State Games T-shirt, a certificate and a gold pass that will admit them to the finals in Urbana if they do not qualify. Gold, silver and bronze awards will also be given for the finalists in each event, both in the regionals and the finals.

Applications are available from athletic departments in high schools, universities and colleges in Illinois as well as sporting goods stores, sports clubs and 7-Eleven stores. Competition will take place in two divisions — open and scholastic — and participants must be residents of the State of Illinois as of March 12. Scholastic division competition is available to any high school student, grade 12 and below as of March 1.

Open Division competition is for anyone who does not qualify for the Scholastic Division.

Competition will be held in the following events in both divisions: archery, track and field, basketball, diving, fencing, gymnastics, shooting, soccer, swimming, volleyball and wrestling. Boxing, judo and weightlifting also will be held in the Open Division, as well.

The regions are:

Windy City (Region 1) all of the City of Chicago.

North Shore (Region 2) all of Cook County north of I-55 and all of Lake County.

Pioneer (Region 3) All of Kane, DuPage and Kendall Counties.

Willco (Region 4) All of Cook County south of I-55 and all of Will County.

Mendoza beats Golden Glove champ

Danny Mendoza, former St. Louis Golden Gloves champion and member of the Mexican Honorary Commission Boxing Club, earned a three-round decision over Steve Cook of the Twin Cities Boxing Club last Friday, May 4, during an exhibition show at the South Broadway (St. Louis) Boxing Club.

Mendoza, a 165-pound open division boxer, earned a unanimous decision over Cook, who is the reigning 165-pound novice division St. Louis Golden Gloves champion.

At Tri-City Speedway Mothers' Day Special at Speedway

Tri-City Speedway's second week of modified, limited sportsmen and street stock competition scheduled last Saturday, May 5, was rained out.

This Saturday, May 12, a special pre-celebration of Mother's Day will happen at the Gateway Fast Track. Any Mom accompanied by her child, 12 years of age and under, will receive, at the gate, $1 off the regular $4.50 adult admission price.

This Saturday the trio of point leaders — in the Modifieds, Cahokia's Marty Smith of Mitchell, Paul Humphrey, Jr. in the Limited

Sportsmen class and the "Silver Bullet" #41 Street Stock of Jim Wilson of Granite City — as they attempt to hold onto their slim point leads.

The World of Outlaws sprint car series returns to the Tri-City Speedway, Wednesday, May 16, in hopes of finding something better than the massive amount of rain that forced postponement of the last program.

Most of the drivers entered for the last show will again be there including defending World of Outlaws champion Steve Kinser of Bloomington.

Driver Ron Shuman of Mesa, Ariz., who is promoting this program, will definitely have to win the bulk of the $20,000 purse to recoup his losses on the earlier rainout.

Joining them will be Sammy and Jeff Swindell and Bobby Davis, Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., Doug Wolfgang of Sioux Falls, S.D., Tim Green of Sacramento, Cal., Brad Doty of Orrville, Ohio, Bobby Allen of Hanover, Pa., Tim Gee of Whitehorse, Yukon Canada, Lee Osborne of Jamestown, Ind., Rich Vogler of Brownsburg, Ind., Tom Scott of Springfield, and Rick Standridge of Divernon.

Gates will open at 4 p.m., time trials at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8 p.m. Tri-City Speedway is located just south of I-270 on Illinois Highway 293. For more information, persons should call 931-9965 or 931-3807.
